

1. Location Matching (Max 200 Points)

System buyer ki location ko seller ki location se compare karta hai. Jo jitna paas hoga, usko utne zyada points milenge:

Pincode Match (+200 Points): Agar seller aur buyer ka pincode exactly match kar jata hai.

City Match (+100 Points): Agar pincode match nahi kiya, lekin unki City match kar gayi.

State Match (+50 Points): Agar city bhi match nahi ki, lekin dono same State me hain.

2. Product & Inventory Matching (Max 270 Points)

Phir system check karta hai ki seller ke paas wo product kis condition me available hai:

Stock Sufficient (+70 Points): Agar seller ke paas utna stock (stock_qty) available hai jitni quantity buyer ne maangi hai.

MOQ Fit (+50 Points): Agar buyer ki quantity seller ke Minimum Order Quantity (MOQ) se zyada ya uske barabar hai (matlab seller wo order accept kar sakta hai).

Thickness Match (+50 Points): Agar seller ke paas wahi exact "thickness" wala product available hai jo buyer ko chahiye.

Price Match (+40 Points): Agar seller ka price us product ke "Average Market Price" se kam ya uske barabar hai (Competitive pricing par extra points).

Width Match (+30 Points): Agar product ki width buyer ki required width se match karti hai.

Sub-Category Match (+30 Points): Agar seller us particular sub-category ka koi bhi product bechta hai (isse pata chalta hai ki ye seller is category me deal karta hai).

3. Sorting & UI Breakdown

In sabhi points ko add karke ek match_score banta hai.

Sellers ko is score ke hisaab se Highest to Lowest (Descending order) me sort kiya jata hai. Agar do sellers ka score same ho, to unko Company Name ke alphabetical order me lagaya jata hai.

Iske alawa, backend frontend ko kuch "Flags" (True/False) bhi bhejta hai jaise has_stock, moq_fit, price_match, pincode_match. Taaki admin ko dashboard me green tick/badges dikh sakein ki is seller ko kyu recommend kiya ja raha hai.

In short, jo seller buyer ke sabse kareeb (Location) hai aur jiski terms (MOQ, Stock, Price) buyer ki demand se sabse zyada perfectly match karti hain, hamara system usko highest score dekar Top Recommend me daal deta hai.
